Leading Styles in Ready-Made Garments, Hats and Shoes.

Garments, Hats and Shoes.

The magnificent display of tailored and fancy suits seen in Julius Sycle's selection this year is not surpassed by another shop in town.

One of the most enhancing spring suits is built of a tiny pin-lined cream chiffon Panama, with the swell Tuxedo collar. Dashes here and there of black satin fibbons produce a Frenchy and pleasing aspect. The jacket is further adorned by tasty braid and buttons, while the skirt continues the idea of inlaid plaits, as begun in the jacket.

Another attractive model is of champagne Panama, the coat embracing a delightful combination of the closer fitting pony back and military front. The skirt is box-plaited down the front and sides; otherwise plain.

Striped wool tailored costumes have but the blas bands of an inch's width stitched over the seams, but are one, two and three button models.

Misses' and children's suits are stunning, usually of plaid and striped cloths.

Misses and condens suits are sun-ning, usually of plaid and striped cloths, box-fitted, with radiant red and green velvet collars and cuffs, offsetting the whole affair in a sudden but captivating whole affair in a sudden but captivating way.

"The Gibson" effect is a notable feature of nearly all the Eton builds, giving a breadth and droop to the shoulders which is most becoming. Many of the dightweight suits offer a special attraction of a third piece, which is nothing more or less than the ever-popular jumper, affording almost another dress, so useful and stylish it is worn over a smart shirtwaist without the jacket.

The handsome net waists, be they of a plain or figured pattern, without exception carry heavy appliques of Irish hand-crochet or Cluny lace, the latter proverbially runjung lengthwise through the sleeves as well as the waist. These are shown in black, white and ceru.

White evening dresses, ready to be used at once, have helped out many hasty brides in their all-important gown of the

The latest hats are not very large, with luxurious flowers and feathers pilled high, the whole idea swaying towards the drooping streamer fad. The airship models are very enhancing, and the palest shades are preferable. The children's hats and cloaks are all pretty. The George 'Washington hat, with its pompon and cords, could not better be worn than with plaid and fancy recers. The illustration of the colored ginghams, nainsocks and bloues continue to be loyal to Buster Brown fashion, while the dresses for the younger ones are best when made simply with handwork trimming. To save these pretty little frocks, "Crawiers," which are modified overalls, are useful, being cunning devices for the young wardrobes' welfare.

Boys' Norfolk jackets, with the knickerbockers, are the most destruble suits found in blues, checks and plaids. Here the important hat or cap may be had for each style of beauty and up-to-date taste.

Men's and youths' suits are cut for e one, two and three button style; also buble-breasted, in blue and plaid serges,

The striped shirts are plain, while the

The hosiery for men and women is a specialty in this store, and the very best taste for the season is the plain gauze lisle, with garter tops. As tan shoes will be conspicuously used in the ultra spring dress, the hose can here be had in all tones. The ribbed cadet hose is a particularly good thing to know, about, as it is unexcelled for ladies and children.

Don't fail to avail yourself of the rare opportunities offered by Julius Sycle's Sons for the finest selected clothes for the man, woman and child.

Negro Captured at West Point Is Thought to Be Man Who Attempted Assault.

A negro giving his name as Walter Hall and answering closely to the re-semblance of the negro who attempted criminal assault on several little girls on Church Hill last Thursday was captured yesterday by the West Point authorities on a telegram received by them from Chief of Police Werner. Ifall was immediately brought to Richmond and taken to the police head-quartres by Chief Werner and menduarres by Chief weither and hoshibers of the police and detective force. CALL ON PEOPLE TO DECORATE HOUSES

Letter to Public Issued by Committee Looking After This Feature of Reunion.

APPEAL TO CIVIC PRIDE

Yesterday Was Better Day for Subscriptions, But Much Money Is Still Needed.

Mr. Peter J. White, the architect, who is acting as chairman of the decoration committee of the Confederate Reunion as she should be when she plays the part of hostess to the visiting veterans. Already Mr. White has received from Governor Swanson the assurance that the Capitol, Library building and Executive Mansion shall have an appropriate garb of flags and bunting and now he desires the Richmond public to follow the example set by the Executive.

To Our Fellow-Citizons:

Richmond has opened wide her gates, and has invited within her borders from every land the sons of the South, the remnant of that heroic band who stood for years a bulwark of defonse in her time of sore need. Sad memories have softened into retrospect without bitterness, and the grievous scars of fire, pestilence and sword have yielded to the curtaining hand of time.

The Niobe of yesterday has become the Phoenix of to-day, and reigning in matchless beauty upon her throne of encircling hills beside a noble river, welcomes within her portais the friends of years agone. Slumbering memories have awakened in responsive answer; gray-haired veterans and stalwartsons, stately matrons and beauteous maidens, and the sedourner from agenty that Money Was Plentiful and Cheap in London and Trading Was Small.

NEW YORK, March 23.-Another demoralized slump in stocks when dealings began to-day revived a great part of the nervousness and apprehension prevailing in the panic period of last week. Yesterday's violent break in the Eries and Canadian Pacific payed the way, to some extent, for the action of the market to-day. The particular weakness, however, seemed to find its origin in foreign markets although the unsettlement abroad was In part reflected from the New York market. The advance in the bank of France discount rate earlier in the week has aroused acute uneasiness over the coming April settlements, which are of importance in all money markets. In London, also, a stock market settlement begins on Motiday. At that time the discrepancies in prices of securities since the last settlement, two weeks ago, have to be made good. This was held to account for the particular of Canadian Pacific, which holds an important place in the department of American securities on the London stock exchange. That stock soll at 160 and 165 on the first sales here, compared with 163% last night. Further offerings broke the price to 185, an interval of 1½ points between sales being marked on the 'declines. Union Pacific at the same time ran of 4½, to 129. Reading and the Hill stocks fell from 3 to 3½, Colorado Fuel and American Locomotive 2½, Delaware and Hudson 2½, Amalgamated Copper and Anaconda 2½ and practically all of the most active stocks from 1 to 2 points. all money markets. In London, also, a all of the most active stocks from 1 to 2 points.

Canadian Pacific rebounded 4 points immediately, and there were other recoveries of 1 to 2 points on the rush of bears to cover and take profits. Liquidation was continued, however, and drove prices downwards again and the tone was weak and fluctuations wild. On the street it was said that the early selling of Canadian, Pacific was for account of a pool which had been operating extensively in this market and London; that the resources of the pool had been greatly weakened by the market's general defound necessary to throw over a large part of its holdings.

There was a substantial rally in the market before the appearance of the bank statement, but in the last half hour of the session prices, with very few market before the appearance of the bank statement, but in the last half hour of the session prices, with very few exceptions, touched the lowest level of the day before a fresh outpouring of stocks from all directions. Union Pacific receded an extreme 43-4, Northern Pacific 51-2, Great Northern preferred 41-2, Southern Pacific and Illinos Central 4, Amalgamated Copper 31-8, Louisville and Nashville, Consolidated Gas, Interborough Metropolitan preferred and United States Rubber 3. Brooklyn Transit and American Smelting 23-4, and others substantially lower than on the first dip. The declines were contested at the lower level and shorts were disposed to cover, throwing the late market into a very feverish and unsettled condition.

Bankers with foreign connections reported to have continued business long after the usual closing hour. On the Berlin bourse conditions were said to be semilanicky by local bankers. The feeling here after the close of the market was one of extreme depression.

Plentiful in London. Plentiful in London.

LONDON, March 23.—Money was plentiful and cheap in the market to-day. Discounts were firm. The tone on the stock exchange was unsettled and nervous feeling prevailed, with a declining tendency in almost every section, due to yesterday's break in Americans, fears of the outcome of the settlement and the advices from Paris and Berlin. Both of these centers sent lower quotations this morning, accompanied by selling orders, and the brokers here accordingly marked down quotations. Not much stock changed hands, however. Fears of an of discount assisted the downward course of consols. Americans were the weakest section at the outset, being nominally quoted at below parity.

Then the continent sold, and prices fell further, closing slightly above the worst quotation of the day, but with two to two points net loss. Canadian Pacific exceptionally closed ten points lower than yesterday. The Indian secretary secured $250,000 in gold due here April 13. Japanese imperial sixes of 1994 closed at 1031-4.
